The commissioner [illegible] that the distinction at present is invidious but urges that the better way to remove the inconsistency of the existing law would be to raise odd [illegible] to double the minimum price whenever by [illegible] causes they are excepted from the railroad [illegible] within the limits in which increase in price attaches to alternate reserved sections and that [illegible] pay $[illegible] 50 per acre. The commissioner still has the matter under consideration.

The Cabinet [illegible] Bristow to Negotiate with the Union Pacific for Better [illegible]

W[illegible], Feb 1[illegible]—The [illegible] of President Dillon of the Union Pacific was read in the Cabinet and the proposition was discussed by Bristow and Williams. Both believed that nothing could be made by forcing suits from the difficulties in the way of legal proceedings and delays that would occur [illegible] involved in litigation, besides it was suggested that even in the event of winning the suits, the subsequent annoyances easily foreseen would be such as to make it wise to use great deliberation in the matter. The President and Cabinet looked upon the proposition to compromise with great favor, but they thought that the terms offered were not as favorable to the government as ought to have been expected, and the Secretary with the concurrence of the Attorney General and his other associates decided to open negotiations with the company in order, if possible, to obtain a modification of the offer of the company so that it should be more advantageous. Should fair terms acceptable to the secretary be offered he will at once communicate with Congress and recommend suitable legislation to enable him to carry out the proposition. In the meantime the suits will remain in abeyance. It is thought that the Secretary will request the officers of the company to confer with him personally with reference to the matter.

Morrill of Vermont from the committee on finance reported the bill to establish a mint for the coinage of gold and silver at Chicago with a recommendation that it be printed and recommitted to the committee on finance. It was so ordered.

Sargent presented a memorial from the Pacific Mail Steamship Company against the repeal of the subsidy granted that company. Ordered printed and referred to the committee on appropriations.

Logan introduced a bill to establish a branch mint of the United States at St Louis. Referred.

Dorsey introduced a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to admit free of duty the diamond necklace presented by the Khedive of Egypt to Minnie Sherman Fitch. Ordered printed and referred.

Morrill gave notice that he would ask the Senate to continue in session to-day till the District of Columbia bill was disposed of. He appealed to Morton not to call up the resolution for the admission of Pinchback to-day. Morton said he would not if it was understood that the resolution should be considered Monday.

The pending question was the amendment by Allison which he modified to provide that claims allowed under the act of June 1874 should be presented within 4 months from the passage of this act or the privilege of exchanging be lost; also prohibiting the Sinking Fund commissioners of the District from issuing any bonds after the same four months and providing that nothing in the act shall be construed as pledging the faith of the United States to pay the indebtedness of the District other than provided by the act of 1874 and amendments thereto. Agreed to.

On motion of Thurman the clause making liquor sellers liable for damages done to any person who is injured in person or property by an intoxicated person obtaining liquor from them was struck out; also the clause making it a misdemeanor to sell liquor to private families or domestic circle was amended on motion of Thurman so as not to include [illegible] of [illegible] character. Part of the section prohibiting employment of a child who had not attended school a certain number of weeks in the year was struck out on motion of Thurman. Compulsory education is required to be between the years of 8 and 15 instead of 6 and 16. The bill was considered in committee of the whole and reported to the Senate. Motions to amend the laws for the election of commissioners having been several times rejected.

Edmunds from the judiciary committee to which the subject was referred reported a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to inquire and report whether the United States or any department of the government is legally bound to carry into effect any contract made pursuant to the act of June 1872 respecting additional mail service between China and San Francisco. Agreed to.

Senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Feb 13—In the House the consideration of the bills from the war claims committee for the relief of certain loyal creditors whose moneys were confiscated by the confederate congress, on which a vote was pending at the adjournment yesterday, was rejected; yeas, 41, nays 140.

Cessna introduced a bill amendatory of the act for the adjudication of the Alabama claims. It contains a provision making it the duty of the court to receive and examine all claims that may be presented to it within three months from the passage of the bill resulting from damage caused by the Shenandoah previous to her departure from Melbourne and by other so called insurgent cruisers.

The bill making compensation for supplies taken by Union soldiers during the Morgan raid was considered and defeated, after which the House went into committee of the whole for the purpose of taking up the pension and military academy appropriation bills.

After the passage of the Military Academy and Pension bills the bill for equalization of bounty was considered. It provides for the payment to every non-commissioned officer and private, including slaves who served in the army and were discharged, eight and one-third (8⅓) dollars per month for services between April 12th and 9th May, 1865, with deduction of all bounties heretofore paid by the United States. Substitutes or prisoners of war at the time are excluded, also those discharged as minors or from other cause unless such discharge was for re-enlistment or promotion. Where the soldier is dead the bounty reverts to his widow, if not remarried, or to his minor child or children.

Gunckel prefaced bill with the platforms both parties pledging justice to soldiers. Government, he said, had already paid four hundred million bounty. Why should it not pay the few millions remaining and remove all irregularities. The pending bill would not cost over twenty millions. Had the Republican party been half as anxious to pay the debts to the soldiers as to pay foreign [illegible] holders it would not be in the minority to-day.

Kellogg, Willard, Hawley of Connecticut and others opposed the bill, because the soldiers will reap no advantage therefrom, having already been paid the bounty by the State.

Comingo's amendment extending the act to all soldiers mustered into service, subsisted, clothed and paid the Government, was agreed to.

Dawes opposed the bill. He advocated first the taking of measures to provide for the Government's obligations and not how to expend more. Coburn, Sayler and Speer advocated the bill. A vote on the bill was then taken with the several amendments attached. Yeas 177, nays 29.

An attempt was made by Lawrence from the claims committee to pass the bill they reported under the previous question. This was unsuccessful and the House adjourned.

A temporary arrangement for carrying the English mail to California is renewed with the A S N Co for the further period of seven months, during which it is hoped some permanent arrangement will be made. The government of New Zealand is in full accord with this colony in the matter of the present service, which is carried on at the joint expense of both. Escape from the State Prison.

PIOCHE, Feb 13—J E Curran, alias Patsey Marley, convicted of stage robbery and sentenced to the State prison for seven and a half years, made his escape from jail last evening, and up to the present time nothing has been heard of him. He left a note for Judge Rives declaring that Ryan who was arrested with him and is now on trial for the same offense had nothing to do with the robbery and is an innocent man, and saying his accomplice was at large and had been present at the trial.

GENERAL DE TROBRIAND.—This gentleman's name has been brought prominently before the country in connection with the part played by him in arresting certain members of the Louisiana Legislature. A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune furnishes the following sketch of this officer: "He was born in France—his father belonging to the old nobility of that country. He came to the United States many years ago and settled in New York City, where he married a most estimable American lady. For a time he was associate editor of the Courrier des Etats Unis and a contributor to the Home Journal, then edited by Messrs Morris and Willis. When the war of the rebellion broke out he became Colonel of the Fifty-fifth Regiment of New York Volunteers and served with distinction in several battles. He was subsequently made a Brigadier General of Volunteers. When the new regiments were formed after the close of the war, De Trobriand was appointed Colonel of Infantry, and now commands the Thirteenth Regiment. He is the author of Quatre Ans de Campagne à l'Armée du Potomac, published in Paris. He is a genial and accomplished gentleman, a fine painter and a correct writer. His recent action in Louisiana has placed him prominently before the people of this country. While in France some years since he was offered the command of an army corps under the Republic, but declined, as he preferred to remain in the United States service."

The sum of $[illegible]000 has been raised by subscriptions at Walla Walla to aid in completing the railway from that place to Wallula on the Columbia. The citizens propose to raise the sum to $25,000.

Stock looks well in Polk county. Wheat sowed early and that had a good start promises well, but that sowed and just up as the cold spell came on us may be somewhat injured. Snow has all disappeared except on northern exposures and shaded places.

The Grangers have decided to build a large warehouse in Dayton for the purpose of cleaning and storing grain. This is a move in the right direction and will supply a want that has been greatly felt by the farming community who ship their grain from that point.

The vein is something over three feet thick at the opening. Arrangements are being made for the full development of this mine.

Mr G B Blood writes the Record to say: In traveling over Lane, Linn and Marion counties I have noticed that wheat looks much better on Howell prairie than anywhere else, and that sowed with drill much better than that sowed broadcast. When drilled, the roots are in deeper and much better protected from cold weather.

A Renfrew of Eugene had a personal difficulty with a large and sanguinary panther last week on the McKenzie while en route to the Hot Springs. The panther, attracted probably by the scent of a fresh ham of venison carried by Mr Renfrew, followed him for a considerable distance, but was outfooted by the horse he rode and finally gave up the chase.

The Yamhill Courier learns that the fall sown wheat is seriously damaged. That which was exposed so that the wind had a good opportunity to blow the snow off is almost entirely killed, while those portions that were not so much exposed looks well. Any person knowing the whereabouts of Millard F Morgan will greatly relieve the anxiety of his parents by communicating the same to John Morgan of Corvallis. He was 21 years of age when he left home some three years since. He spent the winter of 1872-3 with his sister, at Umatilla, and from thence started for Nevada to assist in driving stock, since which time he has not been heard from. Any information of him will be gratefully received by his grief-stricken parents.

Last Saturday, 6th inst, says the Corvallis Gazette, Mr Wm Harris of Monroe received a letter from his brother S P Harris in Kansas (which we give below) calling for help. The next day, Sunday, he presented the matter at Simpson's chapel in the Belknap settlement and $31 [illegible] was raised on the spot. At Monroe $11 [illegible] was raised. Rev D T Spaulding, of the M E church, presented the same matter at his appointment at Junction City and received $10 40. Mr Wm Harris took charge of these several amounts, got on his horse next morning, brought the same to Corvallis, converted it into money orders and forwarded it immediately. Also $6 50 from Corvallis, making $58 50.

A pitiable case of the reverse of fortune left Roseburg, says the Plaindealer, on last Wednesday. It was a man named Earl, the same who recently attempted suicide by jumping from the ferry boat at Portland. A few years ago, this man was in comfortable circumstances. While residing at Astoria his wife deserted him for a paramour, taking with her all they possessed, which happened to be in money amounting to several hundred dollars. Not being a strong man he sank under his misfortunes, and was stricken with paralysis. He is now a perfect wreck. He was furnished a ticket at Portland for this place. Mr Louis Belfils generously paid his fare to Coos Bay, whither he desired to go. Had he remained here he would have become a county charge, and Mr Belfils should not be permitted to stand the expense of sending him to his desired destination alone.

Mr Sol Durbin shows the Record a letter dated Jan 30th, from a man on his cattle ranch in Antelope valley, seventy miles south of the Dalles in Wasco county, who writes: "We have been having tough times up here this month. The storm set in the 7th; six inches of snow fell and it was terribly cold for a while. From the 10th to the 17th the mercury was 6° to 24° below zero. We have been riding every day since the 17th. It was so cold before we could not. The worst trouble is that all the running water is frozen, so we drive all the cattle to the springs. We are feeding about sixty head. I went out the other day and found six head that were very poor. We will do what we can to save them, but there are some that will die. The storm scattered them so that they are hard to find. Charley Durbin was over the other day from [illegible]. The sheep are doing well."

SAN FRANCISCO IN A PROSPEROUS CONDITION

In 1869-70 and '71 California experienced three dry seasons, each one exceeding the other in severity, so much so that in 1871 money had to be raised to buy the farmers, in some of the largest and most productive valleys of the State, seed wheat, and in many cases the necessaries of life. Real estate in San Francisco fell in value from 25 to 50 per cent, hundreds of houses were vacant, rents fell, money was tight, collections difficult, interest rose, population diminished, labor scarce, wages low and many failures took place. The prospects were so dull that had 1873 been similar to 1872, the distress of the people would have been great, and the disaster to business and the State generally would have been alarming. Fortunately, the fall of 1872 brought a good rain, followed by extensive plowing and sowing, spring showers and genial sunshine that produced a bountiful harvest, for which good prices were obtained. The fall of 1873, the spring and summer of 1874 were almost as favorable for the farmers as the previous year, except that the price of wheat was lower. This season promises to be as productive as any of the two previous years. With abundant rains and genial sunshine in their season since the fall of 1872 until the present time California and San Francisco have enjoyed unusual prosperity in abundant crops, increase of population, employment for the industrious, fair wages, advance in real estate, accumulation of wealth, reduction in interest, extensive buildings, increased trade, extended commerce, additional manufactures and fresh enterprises. For all the past and prospective prosperity we congratulate the people of that fine State and commercial city. If California had the regular rains of Oregon it would be one of the most productive States in the Union. When we have secured the advantages of direct railroad connections with the Eastern and Western States and the various outlets to the Pacific ocean available by the same agency, in addition to our present advantages of regular rains, delightful spring, summer and fall climate, rich soil, numerous creeks and springs, magnificent water power, extensive minerals and immense grazing country for stock, we will be in a position and not fear or fail to enter into competition with any State in the Union for the legitimate rewards of industry, energy and enterprise.

The advance in the value of and demand for real estate in San Francisco may be inferred from the following statements taken from the San Francisco Real Estate Circular, published by Mr Thomas Magee, and one of the most reliable papers on that subject on the Pacific coast.

The sales of real estate in San Francisco in 1871 amounted to $12,717,792, while the sales in 1874 amounted to $23,893,903, making an increase in three years of $11,176,111. The probabilities are that the sales this year will reach $30,000,000. About 2,000 new houses were built during the past year. The majority of them were rented before they were finished, and those left were immediately occupied by another class whose means were more limited. The savings banks of San Francisco are a favorable indication of the growing wealth of the industrious and middle classes. In the eleven institutions of this class there are 60,608 depositors. The amount deposited is $5[illegible],021,177; the net earnings for the last six months were $2,[illegible]664; the total expenses for the same time were $222,187, and from 8 to [illegible] per cent interest was paid on deposits. All this large amount is loaned on real estate security.

These are mere samples of the prosperity and wealth of our neighboring State.

RIDICULOUS MESS.—A Keokuk lady while engaged in the pursuit of her domestic duties, encountered a mouse in a flour barrel. Now most ladies under similar circumstances would have uttered a few feminine shrieks and then sought safety in the garret. But this one possessed more than the ordinary degree of feminine courage. She summoned the hired man and told him to get the shot gun, call the bulldog, and station himself at a convenient distance. Then she climbed half way up stairs, and commenced to punch the flour barrel vigorously with a pole. Presently the mouse made its appearance, and started across the floor. The dog at once went in pursuit. The man fired and the dog dropped dead. The lady fainted and fell down stairs, and the hired man, thinking she was killed and fearing that he would be arrested for murder, disappeared and has not been seen since. The mouse escaped.

THE TERRITORIES

A Walla Walla nimrod has killed 40 deer the past winter.

John Chambers of Tenalcut prairie, W T, has killed four large cougars during the winter.

The owner of the Walla Walla horse Mark Twain values him at $5,000 and has refused to take $1,500 for him.

Mrs Dr Wall has been appointed directress of the society for creating an Indian Catholic fund, a branch of which was recently organized in Vancouver.

The Vancouver Water Co have been heretofore assessed $5,000 within the city limits. Under the recent city assessment the company was only assessed for $1,500.

Judge John Clark, the newly appointed judge for Idaho Territory, passed through Walla Walla last week on his way to Boise City on business connected with the supreme court.

A distinct shock of earthquake was felt in Walla Walla valley on the 20th ult. The oscillation seemed to be from northeast to southwest and was accompanied by a rumbling sound.

A man named Keefer, who now lives at Walla Walla, has been through two wars, and came out of both without a scratch, was recently kicked by a worthless cayuse horse, and so badly injured that he was compelled to have his leg amputated to save his life.

A gentleman who resides at the head of the Walla Walla valley reports that but few cattle have died in his neighborhood, and, as a rule, the stock are doing well. He further reports the health of the settlers as greatly improved since the setting in of cold weather.

The business of the United States Land Office at Vancouver for the month of January, 1875, was as follows: Homestead entries 9—909-40 acres; final homestead entries 4—640 acres; declaratory statements filed, 1—160 acres; land sold, 72-31 acres; total, 1,781 71 acres.

The Silver City Avalanche of the 3d inst says: "Snake river day before yesterday broke the icy fetters which had for some time held it captive, and is now free again. Mails and passengers between here and Boise are crossed in a skiff, the large ferry boat being high and dry on land."

Mr J H Fletcher, the new county assessor of Clarke county, W T, has entered upon his duties. The assessment of Brush Prairie precinct has already been completed. The assessor reports the growth of that section of the county in population and all the elements of material prosperity as something quite beyond his anticipations.

The wife of Rev G W Granico arrived at Walla Walla last week from the East. She came all the way through from Kelton by stages mounted on runners. The trip at any season is attended with hardships, but more especially at this time with the thermometer down to zero, and liable at any moment to be snowed in on the mountains. Certainly it required a brave woman to make a trip that few men would care to risk.

The Xenophon disposed of another interest in the Silver Star quartz ledge. Major John A. Kress has succeeded in securing 375 feet more of this local bonanza, which if the sanguine anticipations of its owners are realized will fix the Major very comfortably. The most favorable assay of ore had as yet from this mine shows per ton lead 1,600 pounds, silver, $57. Major Kress now owns one-half of the whole mine.

An Idaho paper says: "There are said to be droves of cattle along Snake river famishing with thirst as well as hunger. The river being frozen over they can get no drink, and many of them venture out to the air holes, break through the ice, under which they are carried down by the current and are seen no more. It seems to us that owners of starving cattle should at least see that they get all the water they want to drink, and not add the pangs of thirst to those of hunger."

At Port Discovery, on Puget Sound, 50 men are furnished employment in connection with the mill, at an average cost of some $3,000 per month. During the past year 18,800,000 feet of lumber were exported from Port Discovery, together with 45,000,000 of laths and 100,000 feet of piles, embracing 43 cargoes. Of the above lumber 15,000,000 feet were shipped to California and 2,500,000 to foreign ports. This place has also obtained some celebrity in ship building, having within a few years built several first class vessels, among which may be mentioned the steamer Mastic, the most powerful tug this side of San Francisco, the schooners Marietta, Serena Thayer, and the barkentine Discovery.

The Walla Walla Statesman of Feb 6 says: The question just now in every man's mouth is, "How is the stock?" So far we have heard of but comparatively few deaths, but if the snow remains on the ground much longer the impression is that the fatality will be very great. Many stock men have already exhausted their feed, and with this class it is either an immediate break up of winter or otherwise their cattle must perish. So far those who had feed to sell have acted liberally. Hon Dan Stewart, owner of one of the [illegible] hay ranches in the valley, offered his hay at $5 a ton—less than hay sold for before the cold weather commenced. We hear of another hay man on the Touchet who offered hay to all applicants at $5 per ton. This is the true policy. Live and let live."

The Boise Statesman of Feb 4th says: "John Lewis is down from Rocky Bar—came 72 miles on snow shoes in two days and a half, and intended to come all the way, but the snow began to stick to his shoes and he got on the stage and came the rest of the way, 23 miles, and arrived Monday night, making the trip in three days. He called on us Tuesday; says the snow at the Bar is pretty well packed and five feet deep. They have had numerous snow slides nearly all the way from the lower end of town on the south side up as far as the Pittsburg Co's mine. The south end of Sol Newcomer's barn was knocked in by a slide, and another slide dammed up the creek back of John Winklebaugh's saloon and rose the creek so that it run into Winklebaugh's cellar four feet deep. Another slide pretty near buried up the Pittsburg Co's blacksmith shop. Two or three men got caught in the slides, but dug out without much trouble and nobody hurt or any serious damage done as yet."

THE PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER REVISITS HER HOME

[N Y Tribune of Jan 28.]

The steamship Republic of the White Star line with the daughter of President Grant, Mrs Sartoris and her husband on board, was sighted off Sandy Hook yesterday morning. The intelligence was communicated to Col Fred Grant and U S Grant Jr, who were waiting at the Fifth Avenue Hotel at about 11.30 A M. Col Grant with his wife and his brother immediately drove to the foot of Broadway and went on board of the revenue vessel Washington which was lying at her dock with steam up ready to meet the incoming steamer. In a short time the Republic was discovered coming up the Narrows, and the Washington left the dock to meet the ocean steamer. The party on the Washington boarded the Republic when the latter was just off Bedloe's Island. The revenue vessel then returned to its place and the Republic steamed up to its dock, where many friends of Mr and Mrs Sartoris were waiting to receive them. After the greetings had been given the whole party drove to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, where there were cordial welcomes from other friends. An immense basket of beautiful flowers, upon which was the words "Welcome Home" in floral letters were presented to the travelers from England. In the evening the party went to Wallack's Theater.

It is understood that Mr and Mrs Sartoris will remain in Washington until spring, and will then recross the Atlantic and will spend the summer months in travel on the Continent.

SMALL EDITIONS OF HUMANITY.—The Troy Times of Thursday says: "The little two pound specimen of humanity that was mentioned yesterday as having been reported before the Medical Association, was born in this city about a month ago, and when the child first appeared into the world it had much the appearance of a very aged person. Its skin was shriveled, and its eyes covered with a film as though age had dimmed them, but by careful nursing, these peculiarities have disappeared, and its skin is now smooth, its eyes bright, and it has every promise of long life before it. Its proud mother can entirely hide the little one from view by covering it with her outstretched hands. But this is not a solitary instance. There is now residing in South Troy a lad seven years of age, stout, rugged, and hearty, who at the day of his birth weighed only one and three fourths pounds. A physician residing in this city relates an instance of a child being born in January, 1874, of a mother who was in the last stages of consumption, which weighed one and a-half pounds. This little one was perfect in formation and survived eighteen days. Another old physician relates the circumstances of meeting a short time ago in Detroit, Michigan, a young man upward of fifteen years of age, tall, robust and well formed, who, when he aided him into the world, weighed two and three-quarter pounds. The above births all occurred in this city. Another instance is brought to our knowledge of a case that occurred in Albany, of a little one that weighed at birth only two and three-sixteenth pounds. The child was also well formed and was doing well until seized with that terror to children, the croup, which terminated its life."

We know a bright, intelligent little miss, now residing in this city, who is eleven years old and who weighs about sixty pounds, who, when she opened her eyes upon this world, weighed less than one pound and a-half. She was the tiniest piece of humanity which we ever heard of. The nurse, in washing and dressing her, used to lay her in the palm of her hand, and the first few days of her life were mostly spent wrapped up in cotton-wool and placed in a [illegible] beside the stove to keep her warm. Her head would go into a small sized tea-cup. Can any one tell of a "smaller edition of humanity" that lived and grew to be a bright and promising little lady?—Boston Journal.

DEAD SURE ENOUGH—WHAT NEXT?

A telegram published in Saturday morning's Bulletin from Senators Hipple and Kelly with relation to the Salt Lake rail was taken in connection with the OREGONIAN's special published the same day settles it that our inferences were correct and that there is no longer any ground to hope for the passage of the bill. The dispatch referred to stated that the Senate had refused to substitute the bill reported by the committee at the last session of Congress for that originally introduced. That was considered equivalent to the final defeat of the bill, and our later dispatch showed such to be the fact for when the question of reading a third time came up, it was voted down almost unanimously.

Assistance from the general government being now out of the question, by what means are the people of Oregon to secure communication with the East? The present route by the way of San Francisco has long been inadequate to the demands of our commerce. Something must be done to obviate the difficulty of reaching Oregon by an expensive and unpleasant sea voyage, or our State must be content to be a mere dependency of California for an indefinite period. Just what to do and how to do it is a problem that will require the best practical minds of the State for its solution, but it must be solved or this beautiful country possessing unsurpassed resources of material wealth and blessed with a truly delightful climate, will go backward rather than forward for a long time, and until all the more accessible parts of the coast have been filled up with population, so that the natural overflow from them will fill our valleys. And even then our State can not hope to occupy that independent and proud position to which it would certainly attain if it could have a fair and even start with other sections. It is for Oregon now to devise the way out of her isolation. It is for her people to lay the foundation and push the superstructure along to such a point as shall inspire the confidence of capitalists abroad, and cause them to come to their aid. Foreign capitalists—and all capitalists, for that matter—will wait until they see a reasonable prospect of success as a business enterprise before they invest in a railway to Oregon. They will take hold of it on a business basis or not at all. That may be taken for a settled fact.

Is there then a sufficient amount of available means in Oregon to get so formidable an enterprise on its feet, so as to give it standing and capacity to command the sum necessary for its completion? There is. No doubt of it. The man who can succeed in organizing the means that ought to be put into an enterprise of this sort by the people of Oregon, can build a railway to connect us at a suitable point with the existing transcontinental line. Will not some of our practical railway men set themselves at work upon this undertaking, so essential to the prosperity of of the State?

THE FREEZE-OUT GAME

> The Bulletin is now the only Portland paper which can be had before 7 o'clock in the morning. For [illegible] the Bulletin will get its dispatches, the OREGONIAN will not come out until after 7 A. M., and thus it discommodes its readers far more than its eleven hundred dollar monopoly pleases them. And on the other hand if the OREGONIAN should dare to appear on the street when the Bulletin does its telegrams immediately find their way into the second edition of the Bulletin, and the eleven hundred dollars is worse than wasted. Our neighbor's monopoly is evidently not very profitable so far in the fight.—Bulletin of last Saturday

That tells the whole story of the shameless theft in which the Bulletin has been engaged while pretending, to its subscribers, that it was taking the dispatches regularly and paying for them. It is condemned out of its own mouth. Its own words prove the truth of the worst things we have said of it.

As to whether the OREGONIAN's "monopoly" is profitable, that is a matter in which the Bulletin has no legitimate concern, so far as we can perceive. The OREGONIAN is satisfied with its investment, and its subscribers express themselves quite pleased, and these, we take it, are all that have any occasion to trouble their minds over the matter. We can't imagine how the Bulletin can derive any pleasure from constantly "knawing a file" over a subject with which it has no earthly concern. However, it is nothing to us.

The ring organ still waileth. There is a monopoly in the dispatches and that monopoly does not belong to the Bulletin, so the wail of the organ goes up to heaven continually. Morning, noon and night it cries out in its grief. It has been the organ of all the monopolies that have existed in the State from the day of its foundation, and has owned several in its own right—the famous peanut and candy monopoly for instance, and now, forsooth, somebody else is trying to get a monopoly of something or other. Heretofore the ring organ has had a monopoly of the monopolies of Oregon and that monopoly alas is broken. It is outrageous the people don't rise in the might of their righteous indignation and avenge the wrongs of the Bulletin. But they don't. They don't indignate a bit. They don't even sympathize with the ring organ. They merely laugh and let it writhe.

A pertinent inquiry just now is, what has become of all the tremendous influence which our junior senator's friends have been wont to boast of his possessing. Thus far he has done absolutely nothing for the State, and has shown his. If unable to secure even a respectful consideration in the Senate to a measure for Oregon after Col Chapman had worked it through the committee and got a favorable report. This was the first heat for the Raphael-eyed Witherspooner and to the great hurt of the people of Oregon he has been distanced.

The Eugene Journal echoes the Bulletin's cry that the OREGONIAN has secured a monopoly of the telegraphic news in Portland and immediately contradicts itself by echoing the Bulletin's other falsehood that it (the Bulletin) has better dispatches than the OREGONIAN. It must be a delightful situation the two or three ring papers outside of Portland are in to be compelled to sneeze every time the Andy Johnson man of the Bulletin takes snuff.

A newspaper congress is proposed to meet at Philadelphia sometime during the Exposition in 1876. Good idea.

AMENITIES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

What with election frauds, salary grabs, Credit Mobilier investigations and so on many persons have been led to suppose that the Congress of the United States during the last few years, has not been a remarkably high-toned and dignified body. Appearances, it must be admitted, have seemed to justify that conclusion to some extent at least but appearances in this, as in many other matters, are liable to mislead the unwary. A perusal of the Congressional Record which is the official registry of the proceedings of our national legislature, will convince any one that the traditional dignity and courteous demeanor of that august assemblage is still preserved with scrupulous exactness. Compare, for example, with the best of the debates in the early days of the Republic, these elegant passages from the record of the discussions of Jan 30 1875—only two weeks past.

Mr E R Hoar (occupying the seat of Mr Negley) I rise to a point of order and ask the chair to direct gentlemen to take their seats.

The Speaker pro tempore Gentlemen will resume their seats.

Mr Eldredge I raise the point of order that the gentleman from Massachusetts, [Mr E R Hoar] is not in his own seat.

The Speaker pro tempore The gentleman owning the seat will not complain.

Mr Eldredge I complain of it.

The Speaker pro tempore The chair overrules the complaint.

Mr Eldredge I supposed he would if we had a democrat in the chair he would not.

* * * * * * * *

Mr Shanks I move that the House shall not adjourn until the reading of the following resolution—

The Speaker The gentleman from Indiana (Mr Shanks) is not in order.

Mr Shanks I appeal from the decision of the chair. I have been waiting all night to get in this thing.

Mr O'Brien I call for the yeas and nays on the appeal of the gentleman from Indiana.

Mr Sypher I move the gentleman from Indiana be allowed to make his speech and that the gentleman from Maryland be allowed to sing a song.

The Speaker pro tempore The chair has repeatedly ruled, in accordance with the ruling of the Speaker of the House, that there are but three motions in order except by unanimous consent. If the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr Sypher) desires to make his motion he can ask unanimous consent. But without that his motion cannot be entertained.

Mr McKee What becomes of the appeal?

The Speaker pro tempore The chair has also ruled and the Speaker of the House before him that no appeal can be taken pending this question.

Mr Shanks Then I am to understand that I am about cleaned out?

The Speaker pro tempore The chair is not responsible for the gentleman's understanding.

Mr Eldredge I would like to know who is the Speaker pro tempore. The chair does not suppose that it is the gentleman from Wisconsin [Mr Eldredge].

* * * * * * *

Mr Clymer I move to amend the motion of my colleague [Mr Randall] by inserting Saturday instead of Friday and upon that I demand the yeas and nays.

Mr Butler of Massachusetts And I demand tellers on ordering the yeas and nays.

Mr Robbins I rise to a question of order. I desire to know whether we are allowed mileage for this travel in passing between the tellers?

Mr Butler of Massachusetts Only actual expenses.

Mr Wilson of Iowa You have been on a thing for that.

Our ring neighbor says it is a "badge of fraud" that the Eastern dispatches now cost more than they did under the old contract. They ought to cost more as there are nearly twice as much of them. The Bulletin had "well founded hopes of a reduction" to use its own words but the OREGONIAN was not in favor of reducing. It wanted to increase the dispatches and has done so. The Bulletin's purpose to reduce not being carried out it takes the alternative of pilfering. That is the long and short of the whole matter.

ANOTHER OF THE BULLETIN'S UNTRUTHS NAILED

JUNCTION Feb 13 1875

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I see that the Bulletin has a correspondence purporting to come from this place in regard to what I wrote you about the false representations made by the ring agents here concerning the OREGONIAN, and instead of denying the dishonorable acts I charged them with this correspondent tacitly admits the truth of what I said, and simply says in reply that I am an old fashioned "secesh Democrat." Now, it seems to me that the conduct I reported (and am able to prove) on them is not affected at all by the question whether I am a Democrat or a Republican. Suppose it be admitted that I am just the sort of person politically that the Bulletin's letter says I am? Does that make the misrepresentations by the Bulletin's agents in regard to the OREGONIAN true? Does it make such conduct honest or honorable? But the truth is I am not a Democrat—secesh or any other kind—and never was. I am an old Line Republican, dyed in the wool and like all the old line Republicans I believe in justice and equity, and hate all the shams that have been introduced in the good old party of unity, freedom and equality by the office seekers that have come over from the Democracy and seized the Republican organization in order to get the spoils of politics. You are at liberty to call on me for proof whenever the Bulletin denies the dishonorable conduct I have accused its agents of.

Yours truly, JUNCTION

POLITICS AND THE PULPIT

WALLAMET FORKS, Lane Co, Feb. 11

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Hon M P Deady has visited our quiet burg and repeated his lecture on "Pulpit and Politics." Notwithstanding the darkness of the night, our new hall 25x50 feet, was filled people coming five to eight miles. The most rapt attention was manifested throughout the discourse. I hear but one sentiment in regard to it to-wit that it was very able, historical and logical and in every way worthy of its distinguished author. Many citizens and readers of your valuable paper would be greatly gratified if the Judge would furnish and the editor of the OREGONIAN publish the lecture.

MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 15, 187[illegible]

CITY.

AT WASHINGTON CITY.—A correspondent of the Eugene Journal writing from W[illegible] under date of January 23d says: Hon Sol Hirsch of Portland and Rev Wilbur, Indian Agent at Yakima W T, were here during the week. Mr Hirsch went to New York on business but expects to return in a few days. Senator Mitchell and Surveyor General Simpson went before the House committee on appropriations yesterday and had a hearing. The committee had agreed upon $60,000 for surveying in Oregon but will now probably report $70,000. On the 22d, Attorney General and Mrs Williams had a grand reception at their residence on Rhode Island avenue. It was the largest Cabinet reception I have ever witnessed in this city. The broad avenue in front of the commodious mansion was crowded with carriages for a distance of several hundred yards. There was probably about two hundred carriages in line at one time and they were coming and going all the time from 9 o'clock until midnight. Nearly all of the foreign ministers, Cabinet officers, members of the Supreme Court, army officers present in the city, a large proportion of Senators and Representatives, and many distinguished people from all parts of the country were present. Nearly all the Pacific coast people were there. Oregon was [illegible] sented by nearly all who are now in the city. Among the number were Ben Hol[illegible] [illegible] wife, Surveyor General Ben Sim[illegible], Mrs. D. P. Thompson Gov Woods, Cal., W. W. Ch[illegible] [illegible] Senator and Mrs Mitchell, S[illegible] Mrs Kelly.

THE TWENTY SECOND.—Arran[illegible] been effected among the military organ[illegible] of the city—Washington Guard, Emmet G[illegible] and City Rifles—for the appropriate ob[illegible] tion of the coming anniversary of Washington's birthday, which occurs one week from to-day. At a meeting held last w[illegible] [illegible] of delegates chosen from each of the several companies, it was determined to unite in the proper observance of the event. It was also determined to choose a president of the day and an orator. Judge J. H. Wood[illegible] was selected to act as president, and Arthur Crisfield as orator. These gentlemen have been waited upon by the com[illegible] and have signified their willing[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] ities named. The court ho[illegible] has been selected as the place for holding the public meeting. In the afternoon the [illegible] will assemble at their [illegible] [illegible] and proceed to a point of [illegible] determined upon and [illegible] band will march through the principal streets of the city and up to the [illegible] at the close of the exercises [illegible] will reform and [illegible] and disband. In the evening the Washington Guard will hold their twelfth [illegible] at Philharmonic Hall.

DEATH OF CAPT VICKERS.—Capt [illegible] Vickers, than whom few were better or more [illegible] ly known among steamboat men in the [illegible] at his home in O[illegible] City on [illegible] after a short illness. At the time the [illegible] sunk, Capt. Vickers [illegible] in the water for several hours during [illegible] cold weather in endeavoring to [illegible] soon after he was taken ill, and [illegible] Capt Vickers has [illegible] identified with navigation on the U[illegible] Willamette for a number of years in the capacity of pilot and [illegible]. In respect to the [illegible] of the [illegible] the flags on the O. S. S. Co's [illegible] displayed at half [illegible]

NOTABLE WEDDINGS. [illegible] have [illegible] of which the brides were O[illegible] [illegible] of high [illegible] to the nuptials of G[illegible] U S army [illegible] ative and Miss [illegible] the wi[illegible] Hon J K Kelly, U. S. [illegible] The wedding [illegible] Washington City [illegible] Smith Kearney, U S [illegible] Territory, and Mrs. S M [illegible] the late Hon [illegible] of the supreme court of this State, which took place in San Francisco on the 11th [illegible]

NEW WHARF.—We under[illegible] Corbitt & Macleay contemplate the [illegible] of a large wharf along the [illegible] foot of Salmon and Main [illegible] coming spring. The [illegible] the southern end of the [illegible] present several hundred feet of [illegible] wharf frontage. We are not advised [illegible] the dimensions of the [illegible] work will be com[illegible] is quite ne[illegible] demands in that portion of the city.

ALONG THE COLUMBIA.—The mail carrier who reached this city yesterday from The Dalles informs us that the prospect for an early clearing up of the Columbia river is quite flattering. The ice between the mouth of Sandy and the Lower Cascades is rapidly [illegible], and is so full of air holes that it is [illegible] unsafe to travel over. Above the C[illegible] the ice is firm and safe only at one place [illegible] Bell Rock. Everywhere else it is dangerous to travel on. From the mouth of Hood river to the Dalles there is scarcely any ice on the river.

[illegible] OPENING.—A telegraphic dispatch [illegible] Saturday from Rooster Rock, [illegible] the ice has broken up and disappeared from the Columbia from the mouth of the [illegible] point opposite the con[illegible] of the Sandy, ten miles above Vancouver. This will be [illegible] intelligence to the people of Portland and Vancouver, as daily communication by steamer can now be had between the two points.

WHO IS HE?—A late number of the Washington City Star in mentioning the [illegible] arrivals says that "Governor C. P. G[illegible] of Oregon arrived in the city last [illegible]." [illegible] will naturally run their [illegible] through their matted locks and [illegible] [illegible] conundrum "Who is he?" The [illegible] paper says the same individual was [illegible] a position in the dep[illegible] of [illegible] on Monday, Jan. 25th.

RAFT TOWED UP.—Yesterday morning the steamer Shoo Fly arrived from down the river, bringing in tow a large raft of logs for M[illegible] [illegible] ams & Hogue. There was about 500,000 feet of lumber in the raft. A considerable quantity of cedar lumber was also brought up by the same boat. Last evening the Shoo Fly went down to tow up another large raft of logs for Weidler's mill.

STEAMER SENATOR.—After several weeks of inactivity occasioned in part by the bursting of a cylinder, the steamer is again ready for service. Some days ago the new cylinder was completed and placed in position. The Senator will probably take the place of the railroad boat while that craft goes on the ways to receive repairs which have so long been [illegible].

TENDER COMPANY.—A tender company has recently been organized in connection with Columbian Co No. 3, composed entirely of small boys. An election of officers was held yesterday afternoon at the engine house, at which the following officers were chosen: Fred Wiegand foreman, Jas Dougherty first assistant, Willie Wiegand second assistant, Charles Stuker treasurer, Aug A Ebinger, secretary.

NEW RUDDERS.—During the time the steamer Welcome was lying at the wharf yesterday several workmen were engaged in making a new set of rudders for her. The rudders which were placed in at the time the boat was rebuilt were hardly of sufficient size to enable the craft to be handled with ease. The boat will be able to make the regular trip this morning.

FAST WORK.—On Saturday the steamer Welcome came down from Oregon City with a full load of wheat and flour. She came alongside the O S N Co's wharf and discharged 148 tons in two hours and five minutes. Under the circumstances this may be regarded as rapid work.

DALLES MAIL.—The Dalles Mail arrived here yesterday at 1 o'clock. To-day the mail will close at 3:30 o'clock P. M., and start back at 4 o'clock. Persons having mail matter to send in that direction will not be unmindful of this.

A visit to Philharmonic Hall will quite bewilder one with the wonderful transformation which has taken place there within the last two days For several days the busy notes of preparation have been heard and the labor of a dozen different hands has transformed the interior of the hall into a perfect fairy like palace There is not a nook or corner in the large room but what is more than replete with everything which can please the eye and captivate the taste of the most refined Depending from the walls and arranged in a tasteful manner on the platforms can be seen such an array of elegant expensive and elaborate articles as have never yet been on exhibition in this city The articles embrace every description of handiwork for which the ladies are noted in making also paintings China tea sets fine Bohemian glassware children's suits worsted and needle work wrought out in the most elaborate and pains taking manner by deft feminine fingers In fact time and space precludes the enumeration of the articles which meet the eye at every glance Facts warrant us in the assertion that the forthcoming fair at Philharmonic Hall will exceed by far any similar affair in the number and elaborateness of the articles on exhibition All the articles with but few exceptions have been made by the Hebrew ladies of this city and neighboring towns and donated to the fair No one can form an adequate idea of the richness and elegance of the articles without going and personally inspecting them

This evening the fair will open and continue through the present week The committee having the matter in charge have marked the price of each article on exhibition down very low—even lower than they could be purchased for anywhere else The committee have also limited the number of chances for each article to be raffled so that holders of tickets can know how many chances they stand of winning the prize Each ticket bears the number of chances and when the specified number of chances have been purchased the article will be raffled Music will be furnished each evening during the continuance of the fair by an excellent orchestra Refreshments will be served up at the hall each day from 11 A M to 2 P M Single admission 25 cents Season tickets $1

EAST PORTLAND ITEMS.

Improvement is the order of the day Several new buildings are now in the course of erection and everybody is renovating and repairing their dwellings

This city needs a hook and ladder company and the want has been demonstrated at every fire that has occurred within the corporate limits since the city was first organized under its present charter If the Board of trustees will buy the hooks, ladders and buckets a company will immediately organize comprising some of our best citizens

The late 'cold snap' played sad havoc with the water works at the asylum and the damage done to the main pump and water pipes was only repaired this week by Mr W S Gordon and an able assistant, after several days of persistent labor A great deal of the old pipe had to be replaced by a new article, and the job though successfully accomplished was a difficult one to perform

THE WEST SIDE RAILWAY

From the Congressional Record we clip this report of proceedings on the 28th of January relative to the continuation of the west side road from St Joe to Junction

Mr Sprague I have four railroad land grant bills before me They grant nothing but the right of way and they are in accordance with the policy of the Senate I ask that they may be passed by their titles If any Senator desires a reconsideration I shall take pleasure in moving a reconsideration if he finds that they grant anything more The first is Senate bill No 584

The bill (S No 584) providing for the permanent location of the southern terminus of the Oregon Central Railroad, and to amend the act entitled 'An act granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from Portland to Astoria and McMinnville in the State of Oregon,' approved May 4 1870, was considered as in committee of the whole.

The Secretary. The committee on public lands reported an amendment in the nature of a substitute for the bill The words to be inserted are

That for the purpose of aiding in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the terminus near McMinnville, as fixed and established by the act of which this is amendatory, to some suitable point on the line of the Oregon and California railroad not farther south than Eugene City, nor further north than Junction City in the State of Oregon such terminus within said limits to be selected by the company within six months from the passage of this act, there is hereby granted to the Oregon Central Railroad Company now engaged in constructing said road and to its successors and assigns, the right of way through the public lands of the width of one hundred feet on each side of said road and the right to take from the adjacent public lands materials for constructing said road and also the necessary lands for depots stations, side tracks, and other needful uses in operating the road not exceeding forty acres at any one place and also each alternate section of the public lands, not mineral, excepting coal or iron lands, designated by odd numbers, nearest to said road to the amount of ten such alternate sections per mile on each side thereof not otherwise disposed of or reserved, or held valid pre emption or homestead right at the time of the passage of this act And in case the quantity of ten full sections per mile cannot be found on each side of said road within the said limits of twenty miles, other lands designated as aforesaid, shall be selected, under the direction of the secretary of the interior on the easterly side of said road nearest to and not more than twenty-five miles from the track of said road, and on the westerly side of said road nearest to it, and not more than forty miles from the track of said road to make up such deficiency

Sec 2 That all the provisions and requirements of the act of which this is amendatory are hereby extended to and made applicable in the construction of the said road, as provided in this act

—Mr Sherman I see that that contains a land grant

Mr Sprague. I move that it be postponed I was not aware that it was a land grant bill

Mr Mitchell. I hope it will not be postponed That is simply reiterating the old act

Mr Sherman. If there is any land grant in this bill it is a different bill from what the Senator from Rhode Island supposed

Mr Sprague We had no intention of giving any land grant

Mr Sherman. Let the bill be passed over until we can see the nature of it The Senator from Oregon says it is not a land grant It is a land grant on its face

Mr Mitchell This simply recites the old act which was a land grant

Mr Sherman. Go on with the next bill and I will look into this

The President pro tempore The bill will be passed over if there be no objection

Mr Sprague. I move to recommit the bill to the committee on public lands

The motion was agreed to

RAILWAY CONNECTION.

To the Editor of the Oregonian

Your suggestions made in your paper of Friday morning last the day before we had received news of the defeat of our subsidy bill before Congress and anticipating that defeat accords with my view now in regard to railroad communication with the East

It is said that like the greatness of its ideas, a nation is great

Perhaps it would not be erroneous to make a description of the Pacific Northwest It is that portion or area of country which taken as a whole, is in the form of a square and of which Salt Lake, or the north end of it is the southeast corner and includes to the northwest as far as the Straits of Fuca and even includes Alaska as that lies in the same direction and is a part of the United States The interests of all this area of territory are homogeneous and lie in the same direction so far as railroad communication with the balance of the world is concerned And a transcontinental railroad entering this territory by the line of the proposed Portland Dalles and Salt Lake road would unite all the interests of this whole area described as the Pacific Northwest

I for one do not believe that any other of our heretofore proposed railroad routes would if a railroad were built on it afford so ample and advantageous facilities to the Pacific northwest as a railroad would upon the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake route In the dim future there is a doubtful certainty of building a North Pacific Candor, however expressly forbids it to be relied on in my opinion I for one believe that the means and ability exists in the Pacific northwest to forward the building of a railroad on the Salt Lake route so far that capital from abroad may be induced to complete it But we can only make the trial requisite on our part by a united and determined effort and this throughout and among the whole people Not one cent it is proposed shall be advanced but that is to be returned The trade and transportation of the Columbia river is not small The first step would be to secure that trade or business in the line of the proposed road by constructing short railroads on the portages of the Columbia If the patronage can be secured in advance and if the determination on the part of those living on the other side of the Cascade mountains will be maintained to support this line the portages can be easily built Then with this beginning and such commencement as we can make in Umatilla Union and Baker counties and Idaho Territory foreign capital surely can be induced to take hold and build the road from Columbia river to Ogden, and leave the balance to the future The Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Company have grants rights and immunities already that are valuable and which we ought not to lose From present appearances it is for to as certain that ... other railroad being built to the Pacific that from the time of the commencement a great flow of immigration and wealth into our country and among our people will begin so that for every dollar we expend in this way four or five will return to us The region through which we propose to build is one inviting immigrants for settlement itself and if we have the super inducement to offer of now opening the country up to convenient settlement by building a railroad through it how immense will be the inducement to immigrants to be early settlers If we build our road slowly it will not be the worse for us on that account provided we keep at work on it It will be a magnet long held out to attract immigration Along the tributaries of the Columbia and throughout the regions east of the Cascades are numerous extensive agricultural valleys on the line of the proposed road while at least the portion of the route from Boise City to Ogden is exceedingly well adapted for easy building a railroad over It may be called an easy prairie country for building a railroad in And when completed such railroad will be an independent competing line standing upon an equal footing with the Central Pacific in every merit it has with advantages over it in some particulars that are not unimportant Whenever or howsoever undertaken we should have this road a wide or regulation gauge

A Democratic astronomical journal known as the New York World has been ciphering out the sun's parallax from data obtained by observations of the transit of Venus and has made the startling discovery that our goodly planet is destined to pitch headlong into the considerably more than red hot furnace of the sun in 1 440 years or less And yet the Democratic party is rock rooted in the crust of the earth and buttressed with eternal hills and bears an indissoluble life Those of our fellow citizens who do not care to be volatized and driven off into the regions of boundless space some 1 440 years hence, will hasten to get themselves incorporated into the one only indissoluble party Meantime let the New York organ of the rock rooted party change its name The World will be an egregious misnomer when it comes to be issued from the Tammany hall at the center of our system — Chicago Times

SHADE TREES

[From the Farmer]

Mr Editor It is not often that I trouble you with my pen but I will venture to say a few words at least and my text when the reader shall find it will read thus Plant ye a tree and a few of those known as ornamental or shade trees I would be glad if your readers would take a walk through Portland or Corvallis or even in Salem and see those beautiful ornamental and shade trees, and then go and do likewise It will add to the beauty of your home and your farm and will be a monument to your memory in after years I find the following item in my scrap book which I have had for several years and will give it for your readers It will tell what I mean

SET OUT A SHADE TREE

You admired those trees in Mr Smith's yard last summer How cooling their shade how ample and rich and graceful their foliage! How finely they set off the house behind them You said to yourself that those trees added $500 to the value of his premises and you resolved that when another planting time came around you would set out a good lot of trees around your own homestead and along the street in front of your land Now that planting time has come be sure and keep your vow Don't say I haven't time, or it won't pay or I am getting too old to plant trees I shall never live to sit under their shade Don't indulge in any such vain pleas for indolence You have time to set out, at least a few It will pay as every year's observation shows Very likely you will live to enjoy their shade Trees grow very fast if well planted and afterwards well cared for We have known men to go about, making the last named excuse ten years in succession, a long time enough for their trees to have grown to considerable size had they been energetic enough to plant them at the outset

And what if you don't live to enjoy their shade? Under whose trees do you walk or ride every day when you go down the street? Trees which men planted before your day From whose fruit trees do you gather an abundance of delicious apples and pears every year? Trees which men planted before your day Now suppose they had said Let us not waste our time and money and strength in planting trees for we shall not live to enjoy their shade and fruit —the present generation would have been poorly off in these respects Who cannot see that every generation is indebted to those preceding it, and should make the debt for those following larger still? It is a debt strange to say which enriches those on whom it is entailed and which makes children bless the memory of their fathers

RIVAL BABIES

ENCOUNTER BETWEEN TWO MOTHERS EACH WITH HER DARLING CHERUB

[illegible] baby show which was to have been one of the features of the poultry and dog exhibition at Young Men's Hall is not visible to the naked eye as yet, but [illegible] came very near [illegible] Saturday afternoon. Two women with babies entered the place [illegible] for the little puppies and taking seats on opposite sides of the room proceeded to stare at each other coldly and suspiciously. One was a tall female with auburn hair and the other was a little lump of a woman with eyes and a determined look. Although they were alone in the room, neither spoke, but they commenced to unpack their offspring.

The auburn-haired lady finally produced from the midst of innumerable wrappings a pale, sickly-looking infant, wearing a considerable gold chain and an expression of settled melancholy. The other baby was a chip of the old block, so to speak—a corpulent cherub with puffy cheeks and big eyes, who proceeded to suck its fat thumbs with much composure.

The silence was becoming oppressive when the tall woman broke it. She remarked with affected solicitude

"What is the matter with your baby, mum? The poor little thing looks quite unwell."

The little woman's black eyes snapped, but she answered with forced composure

"Minerva Geraldine was never sick a day in her life madame, and she is sixteen months and ten days old. Has your little one been ailing long?"

The tall woman's hair began to rise up, but she pretended to be looking to see where the pin was pricking her sad faced babe, and made no reply. Presently she wound the infant's gold chain around her finger in an abstracted manner so that the other woman would see it.

The rival mother produced a coral necklace with a blue locket and carelessly clasped it about Minerva Geraldine's neck.

Then the other in tones of alarm exclaimed "Why, Alphonso, have you lost your little gold ring?" Alphonso, who was about thirteen months old, vouchsafed no reply, but looked sad, and his mother, after a brief search, produced the ring from a needle case, and, with a glance of triumph, forced it on his finger.

The little woman was pale, but compressed her lips with stern determination. Reaching down into her basket she brought out a silver mug and a wax doll with real hair. She trembled with excitement, for she had shown her full hand. She won, the silver mug settled it.

"Did you intend to put that overgrown monstrosity on exhibition here?" inquired the fiery-haired female, glaring wildly at her rival.

"Why don't you hire out your living skeleton to a side show?" screamed the little woman, her eyes snapping with rage.

"Woman."

"Creature."

It looked as if there might be blood shed, and a humane reporter, who had overheard the wrangle, rushed in to interfere.

"Is my little darling a monstrosity?"

"Is my Alphonso a living skeleton?"

Both interrogatories rang out simultaneously with a shrillness that drowned the yelping of the canines, and the crowing of the prize roosters in the next apartment.

"Ladies," said he, with an expression of great solicitude, "they are both angels for I have just been exposed to the scarlet fev—"

And each exasperated female clutched up her baby and nursing-bottle and basket, and bounced out. He was alone.—Detroit Post.

ROBINSON CRUSOE

I never sit down and ponder on Robinson Crusoe's case without feeling sad and sympathetic. He was not any relative of mine, of course, he did not even belong to my lodge nor vote my ticket, but it must be awful to a young and healthy man to be cast away on an uninhabited island for years and years, and be deprived of the society of everybody except a dog and seventeen goats.

I don't wonder that there were times when Mr Crusoe sat down and wished that he was dead. Mrs Crusoe, a dashing young woman, would have good reason to believe him dead, and he knew she'd be cutting around to strawberry festivals and comic lectures, and have her eyes on the watch for a second husband. If Bob was ever rescued, he'd go home and find a strange man in the house, and strange red headed children galloping up and down. Then he'd have to go away and die of a broken heart, as poor Enoch Arden did. No, he wouldn't either—he'd go for that strange man and those red-headed children like a Chinaman for a mouse, and he'd tell Mrs. Crusoe just what he thought of her conduct.

And there were hundreds of other things to worry him and make him feel out of sorts. He hadn't a shirt which buttoned behind, his shoe-blacking was a bogus article, his stock of cuffs and collars soon run out, and he might put on a diamond pin as big as his fist, and there was no one around to remark the style he carried. He was a good ways from any grocer's, the mails were always behind time, and there wasn't even one street-car or omnibus line on the island. If he wanted to go anywhere he had to walk, or paddle his way in his old dug out. Owing to the high price of gas he couldn't use it in his house and the street lamps were not lighted half the time.

At home, Mr. Crusoe had been used to going to ward caucuses, spelling schools, husking bees and dog fights, and he suddenly found himself deprived of all these pleasures. For a period of fifteen years and four months he never had a chance to cast his vote or take something to drink at a candidate's expense, and at last he became so reckless that he didn't care whether Andrew Jackson or Susan B Anthony was President of the United States of America.

In addition of being deprived of good society, Mr Crusoe labored under many annoyances. If he found a button off his shirt he might get up and rave and howl, but there was no one there to hear and his howling did'nt do any good. He had to wash his own clothes in the coffee pot, and if he lost his hat around the house it didn't do any good to yell out "Sarah Jane Crusoe, where in blazes is my hat?" for Sarah Jane was far, far off.

I can imagine how a man must feel to be deprived of the sight of his mother-in-law for nearly twenty years, and how lonely life must be without plenty of perfumed hair oil, calf skin boots and now and then a horse race or a State election to bet on. Many a time I have dropped the book and brushed the tears away as I realized that Mr Crusoe might have died fifty times and no one would have had interest enough to start a subscription for a monument to him.—M Quad.

Letters received in Victoria from Telegraph creek state that the three bridges across the north fork of Stikine have been swept away by the ice-jams and the river not being fordable it will be necessary to replace the bridges before the 1st of May, as they cannot be built at high water. The writers also state that there is only a log across the Twelve mile creek, this side of Dease lake that it is only crossed at any stage of water at extreme peril, and that at high water it is covered, and can not be crossed at all by animals.

Washington Territory contains only one brick court house. That is in Whatcom Co.

Average California wheat ex warehouse is quoted by late telegrams from London at [illegible] per quarter Oregon [illegible] prompt shipment are quotable in Liverpool at 43s per quarter ditto in Cork 45s. The European markets are all reported dull and cargoes for shipping at [illegible] slow sale.

A very fair degree of activity for the season noticed in commercial circles to-day without any special transactions out of the usual line to call for comment in these columns.

Monetary matters move on in their accustomed grooves and with a light current demand for accommodations there is a very fair supply of available funds in the market and we learn of offers by outside parties of some large sums at the usual rates.

Trade is beginning to show some signs of revival and we predict that much of the dullness prevailing now and for some weeks past will before long give way. So much attention here of late years has been turned to the grain and flour trade that when that languishes most other branches exhibit a like condition. That more activity will be felt in the wheat market at no very distant day there is little reason to doubt and there is still a large portion—say two fifths of last year's crop—yet in the State and a probability that enough vessels will be here to carry it away before another harvest. If the vessels and the wheat are here it is not at all likely that the former will go away in ballast rather than accept even the low rates for charters which can now be obtained.

Foreign Breadstuffs Market.

From the latest information by mail (1st inst from New York) it is now believed that the wheat crop in the United Kingdom in 1874 was from 5 to 10 per cent above an average yield instead of 5 per cent under an average yield as has been previously stated. The amount of wheat in transit for the United Kingdom is now larger than at any time in 1874.

Beerbohm's London cable of the 27th ult reports the farmers deliveries of home grown wheat in the 150 towns in England and Wales for the week ended Jan 23 1875 at 50 000 to [illegible] 000 qrs and estimated in the Kingdom at 210 000 to 260 000 qrs. The imports of foreign were for the same week 12 000 to 150 000 qrs of wheat and 75 000 to 60 000 bbls of flour and 120 000 to 125 000 qrs of maize. The supply of wheat flour included for the week ended January [illegible] 1875, was [illegible] to 1[illegible]7 00 qrs against 400 000 qrs minimum and 473 000 qrs maximum average weekly consumption. The supply of corn for the week was 960 000 to 1 100 000 bushels which is double the average weekly consumption has been since September 1, 1874.

The supply of wheat in the United Kingdom during the four weeks ending Jan 2 was 10[illegible] [illegible] qrs less than the consumption including 6[illegible]100 qrs from imports. The expected supply from cargoes in transit in four weeks from Jan 9 1875 is 724 000 qrs from which should be deducted whatever may be taken from ports of call for the Continent and to which should be added the imports by steamers from America in four weeks both of which latter are unknown quantities to be determined by the facts.

Of the 1 597 162 quarters of wheat in transit for the United Kingdom there were expected to arrive during the four weeks from January 9 to Feb 6 1875 724 000 quarters or an average of 181 000 quarters per week exclusive of those by steamer from America. This weekly supply with the usual deliveries of home grown wheat would keep the weekly supply fully equal to the weekly consumption during that period.

The stock of wheat in Marseilles on the 30th of December 1874 was 61 892 metrical quintals in

There were on the 7th of January 1 616 230 qrs of wheat (including flour estimated as wheat) in transit for the United Kingdom exclusive of steamer shipments from American Atlantic ports and sail and steamer shipments from the Baltic comprising 187 000 qrs from Azov Sea, 226 380 qrs from Black Sea ports 40 080 qrs from the Danube, 84 620 qrs the United States Atlantic ports 1 030 520 qrs from California and Oregon 6 000 qrs from Chili 500 qrs from India and 98 530 qrs from other ports. The aggregate for California and Oregon is equal to 6 [illegible]1 000 bushels against 5 155 840 bushels from all other countries.

Shipping Intelligence.

The Ajax due here Sunday night from San Francisco will probably arrive before this reaches the reader.

The British ship Conflict now at Astoria is under charter to load wheat for the United Kingdom. Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay have taken the contract to load her and will have quick dispatch.

The bark Mattie Macleay will begin on Monday to discharge her cargo of Island produce. She is lying at Barnard's wharf.

The bark Windward will be towed up to Pacific wharf on Monday morning and will be loaded during the first half of the week.

The bark Willy Rickmers will have quick dispatch for the United Kingdom with a cargo of breadstuffs.

The bark Midas will begin to discharge cargo at Pacific wharf on Tuesday. Consignees are referred to a notice found elsewhere.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—In this staple product there is at present the least amount of speculation known in this market for some time. Up to and during the time of the freeze exporters were buying quite largely and stocks in the mean time accumulated so that there was scarcely storage room. These stocks are being rapidly depleted by the vessels here and at Astoria loading for Europe and San Francisco. When these vessels are loaded there will not be much of a surplus in this market though shippers still have some very considerable lots awaiting transportation from the interior. There are now comparatively but few purchases being made though all good wheat offering at $1 37½ ₺ cental is taken by two or three exporters while others refuse to quote higher than $1 35.

FLOUR—The receipts from several of our State mills are large and heavy invoices are going forward to the vessels at Astoria, to Puget Sound ports and to San Francisco. Prices have varied but little for weeks the quotations for jobbing rates being still at $4 50 ₺ barrel for standard extras $4@4 25 for good outside brands and $3 50@3 75 for super fine.

OATS—There is an apparent tendency toward a decline owing to the report of full supplies in the San Francisco market, and slightly increased receipts here. We quote good bright to choice lots in sacks at 48@50c ₺ bushel.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions to note or to fix prices. Quotations include common feed to choice brewing and are furnished at $1 40@1 [illegible] the latter only for the best.

FEED—Trade is not reported active, and prices are still furnished at $22@25 50 per ton for middlings, bran $17 50@18 chop $2[illegible] shorts $20 oil cake $40.

HAY—No change in prices since last week. The supply is full for the current demand, good timothy quotable at $16@[illegible] per ton.

EGGS—For the local trade only a few lots were sold at 35c ₺ doz but at [illegible] near [illegible] the present shippers not being able to pay more than 30@[illegible]c. A further decline is anticipated.

APPLES GREEN—There are now but few choice varieties in the market which are quotable at [illegible] $1 ₺ box.

APPLES DRIED—The demand is dull at 4½@5c ₺ lb in sacks and 5c in kegs.

BACON—In common with some other products this commodity is manifesting a slightly downward tendency. Sales being now quotable at 11@12c with shoulders 8@9½c hams 13@14c. The supply is very full.

CHICKENS—For a few days past there has been a good demand for fair to choice lots and such are quotable at $4@4 50 ₺ dozen. The receipts to-day are above the average for the week.

DRESSED HOGS—The demand is still fair at prices not changed since our last reports.

BEEF CATTLE—There is a stronger feeling on the part of holders on the ground of supposed losses in Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory. But few transactions noted—mostly at 4 cents ₺ lb net on foot.

MUTTON SHEEP—There are very few lots offering and choice are worth $3 25@[illegible] per head and some at the extreme of $4.

CURING

Costiveness Jaundice Dyspepsia Indigestion Dysentery Foul Stomach and Breath Erysipelas Headache Piles Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases Biliousness Liver Complaint Dropsy Tetter Tumors and Salt Rheum Worms Gout Neuralgia as a Dinner Pill and Purifying the Blood are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skillful physicians most eminent clergymen and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated they are easy to take and being purely vegetable they are entirely harmless.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons,

Has been widely used during the last twenty five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases, and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. The shakes or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again. This has made it an accepted remedy and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West and the Chills and Fever of the South.

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack. It thoroughly expels the disease so that no Liver Complaint, Rheumatism Neuralgia, Dysentery or Debility follow the cure. Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear. Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack. Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease. The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy.

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON Feb 15—The secretary laid before the Senate a letter from Vice President Wilson announcing that he would be absent from the city for two or three days.

Anthony of Rhode Island was chosen vice president pro tem of the Senate. Edmunds, from the judiciary committee, reported without [illegible] the civil rights bill which recently [illegible] House and gave notice that he would call it up at the earliest possible moment which would be in a day or two. It was placed on the calendar.

Chandler from the committee on commerce reported back the steamboat bill, with amendments and said it was now only the skeleton of the bill heretofore considered. It was placed on the calendar.

On motion Morton's bill to provide a government for the District of Columbia, was laid on the table [illegible] to [illegible] Morton then moved to reconsider and [illegible] lay that vote on the table, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the steamboat bill.

Windom from the committee on appropriations reported back the Indian appropriation bill with amendments. Placed on calendar.

The morning hour having expired the chair announced that the unfinished business was the bill to provide a new government for the District of Columbia.

Morton moved to postpone pending and all other orders and proceed to the consideration of the resolution from the committee on elections for the admission of Pinchback.

Morrill of Maine said he would not now urge further consideration of the District of Columbia bill but would try to have it considered before the end of the session.

Thurman asked if Morton's motion could be divided so that the Senate could vote first upon postponing pending orders, and then decide what should be taken up?

The Chair Anthony replied that the motion was divisible and Thurman then expressed the hope that Morrill would not abandon his bill.

Morrill declared he had no intention of doing so but would not press it now.

Morton then moved to lay the District of Columbia bill on the table. Agreed to—[illegible] Ferry, [illegible] Sprague and Tipton voting with the Democrats in the negative.

Morton then moved to take up the Pinchback resolution.

Bogy moved to lay the motion on the table and take up the steamboat bill.

Edmunds said Bogy's motion was not in order.

The Chair (Anthony) ruled that it was but finally left the question to the Senate which by a vote of yeas 25 nays 29 decided Bogy's motion not in order.

Morton's motion was then agreed to and Morton proceeded to argue that Pinchback had a prima facie right to the seat and must be seated. Any [illegible] as to the character of the body that elect[illegible]

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 29, 1874.

THE EARLY BIRD

Daintily over the dew wet grass
Tripped blue eyed Milly the farmer's lass
Swinging her milk pail to and fro
As she murmured a love song soft and low

Many a suitor Milly had,
From the squire's son to the herd man's lad
But she smiled on all with a merry glance
And gave each wooer an equal chance

Now faithful Donald the herdsman's lad
The more he loved her the more was sad
"For what with the squire's son" thought he
"She never will turn a thought to me

But down in the meadow he raked the hay
When Milly went singing along that way
He watched her pass and she cried in jest
'Tis the early bird—you know the rest

Then suddenly Donald grew so bold
That the old old story was quickly told
And blue eyed Milly was nothing loth
On that summer morning to plight her troth

Oh foolish Donald! she cried, in glee
To wait so long for a hint from me
Then merrily over the dew wet grass
Tripped Donald and Milly his own sweet lass

SQUILLS [illegible] THE COMET

AND MRS SQUILLS GOES ONE BETTER.

For some cause or the other too numerous to mention Squills was late in going home the other night Perhaps it was morning On second thought, it was morning Squills had been sitting up with a sick friend as usual and the heat of the room or something hadn't agreed with him His friend wanted him to stay all night, but Mrs Squills had an objection to his staying out all night Mrs Squills was not a jealous woman, but she had once been heard to remark darkly that she would like to catch Mr Squills staying out all night. From that moment Squills had relinquished the idea On this particular occasion Squills never felt so much like staying out all night on a door-step in all his life The room had dis[illegible] with him so much But he struggled manfully with the effects of the room, combined with the effort of sitting up with his sick friend, and he reached home at last.

Mrs Squills was awake Once upon a time Squills [illegible] to take off his shoes and go up softly in his stockings, but he had left off that [illegible] years ago Mrs Squills was always awake She was awake this night as [illegible] knew it, because she didn't snore.

"Is that you Squills?"

"That is the question she asks me year in and [illegible]" said Sq[illegible] "Looking at me with the eye of a lynx from under the mosquito bar and knowing enough of me to know my hide on a bush if she should ever see it on a bush, she said mildly 'Is that you Squills?' 'I tell you,' said Squills, that kind of thing is wearing, but I responded cheerily

'Yes, my dear occurse mo' '

'What time it is? Is it late?'

"Jus' struck twel' Missus Squills"

At which she immediately got out of her nest walked deliberately to the mantelshelf, looked at the clock, and then, turning round, said in tones that would have given a chill to an iceberg "

"Mr Squills it wants just a quarter to th[illegible]

I said 'Let it want m' dear'

'Where [illegible] you been, Mr Squills?' Sitting up with a sick friend?

I knew the "sick friend" was too thin to hold water with that remarkable female said Squills, and so I said

"Oh [illegible] m' love"

"The Co[illegible]'s what, Mr Squills?"

"Co[illegible] [illegible] wonderful 'n Judy. Fiery, untamed tail ever s'long. Gran' s'll [illegible] such thi[illegible]

"I felt that the influence of the sick friend and the oppressive heat of that last bottle of soda water was [illegible] Squills, and I also felt that Mrs. Squills' eye was upon me, [illegible] I felt as if Mrs. Squills was all eyes and that [illegible] at one [illegible] policeman's [illegible] eye."

'Before I call in the children, Squills to witness the [illegible] effect of Cogg[illegible]'s comet on their father," said Mrs Squills, 'you had better get into that bed "

"And then what do you think she did?" said Squills. 'But you'd never guess No, sir, no [illegible] could ever guess the depth of that woman's knowledge of human nature She poured out a glass of ice-water from the [illegible] pitcher and then deliberately went out on the porch and threw the balance out into the [illegible] Then she sat down by the window and sucked the water in the glass through a straw '

'I never felt so thirsty in my life,' said Squills; "and she knew it and then to suck up that water through a straw There was a majestic dignity in the act that couldn't possibly have originated with anybody but a woman "

"I don't know how I went to sleep,' said Squills, "but I did, and when I woke up in the morning there was Mrs Squills at the bedside with a cup of hot coffee'

[illegible] Squills, it's better than ice-water for Cogg[illegible]'s comet."

'What could I say' said Squills 'Just nothing I was completely at her mercy, and that cup of coffee is going to cost me a new d[illegible] I get through with that infernal [illegible] and I know it "

PARISIAN ENGLISH

One [illegible] meets most ludicrous examples of the sort of English these Frenchmen speak when they try and it would be difficult to imagine anything funnier than some of the English one sees on French bills of fare unless possibly it were the French which I have from time to time read on the bills of fare in our western hotels I shall never forget the amusement with which, at the Neil House in Columbus O I once read on the bill of fare 'Pommes de terre a la waiter d hotel' which I found meant simply stewed potatoes (Pommes de terre a la maitre d'hotel) There is a newspaper here called the Moniteur des Etrangers, which has all the advertisements on its first page printed in the English language and its blunders are so astonishing that one can hardly believe the evidence of one's eyes in reading them One man announces himself as a shirtmaker, professor of cut, and claims to keep a 'shirt tore You have to study a little before taking in the fact that it is a shirt store he means Another man claims to be a 'dealer in handkerchief, flannels west and trouser" And here is an advertisement which is worth clipping in its entirety

A still further decline in the gold premium is noted to day

In local finances no important transactions have come to light The general disposition of the market is one of ease among merchants who appear to be satisfied with the operations business so far as well as the prospects for the future The demand for [illegible] funds is perhaps increasing a little and will bring about a closer condition of affairs in the course of a fortnight We hear of no new buyers in our wheat market this year but many of those who were in the business last year will be on hand and competition will be quite as active as then but not such as to inflate prices above what the demand markets will bear unless vessels should arrive in too great numbers to receive reasonable dispatch

The Eastern papers all take a rather hopeful view of monetary matters and the prospects of the fall trade In most of the money centers capital is abundant and the crop movement is expected to set a large sum in circulation which has for months been idle owing to the lack of opportunities of investment While business has not been active and is not so now, there is an undercurrent of improvement in trade, and confidence is being gradually restored An exchange from Philadelphia says "Deposits are well sustained however and the balances show but little reduction First-class borrowers are almost able to make their own terms although no disposition is evinced on the part of the banks to run any more risk than formerly With the moving of the crops and the opening of the fall trade a legitimate demand for funds is expected to arise that will absorb the superfluous greenbacks in the vaults "

Eastern Wool Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH]

PHILADELPHIA July 28.—Wool firm but not quotable any higher Stock scarce and good demand California fine and medium 30@35c coarse 25@35c

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—To an outsider it would appear that very little is being done in regard to the new crop but though things appear so quiet on the surface we are informed that some large contracts have been made for fall delivery on terms reserved. The present condition of the market is some better than it was one week ago but whether the improvement is permanent is a matter of doubt Quotations are almost nominal at present, at $1 40@1 45 ℔ cental

FLOUR—The supplies on hand now will carry dealers through the fortnight or so that will intervene before the new crop of wheat comes in Quotable at $5 50 ℔ bbl for best brands of standard extras good outside brands $4 50@5 Superfine $1

OATS—Transactions are limited just now as farmers are too busy with harvesting to give the market much attention The supply however is ample and prices are dull at 40@42½ cts per bushel

BARLEY—There is a good demand for choice lots for brewing purposes, and such readily command $1 50 ℔ 100 lbs including sacks. Common feed quotable at $1 40@1 45

FEED—Stocks on hand supply the present inquiry which is limited at jobbers' paying rates bran $17 ℔ ton shorts $18 chop middlings etc $30

HAY—The new crop comes forward freely and prices tend downward the quotations for baled timothy being $18@20 ℔ ton ditto loose $8 00@10 00 Wild is scarcely salable at $6 50@7

POTATOES—The market is full of receipts of new crops of good varieties and quotable at 45c@50c ℔ bushel The report that in some sections of Washington Territory this crop had suffered from blight or some disease similar in its effects is stated not to be general but our information only claimed to apply to some fields on the Sound and on the lower Columbia The matter was well understood earlier in the season but since that time the crop may have partially recovered

ONIONS—The supply on hand at present is not large and quotations are firm at 2@2½ cts ℔ ℔, including sacks.

DRIED FRUIT—The demand is well supplied at current rates and shipments not resulting in encouragement prices are rather weaker We quote apples in sacks at 6 cents ℔ ℔ in kegs 7c. Plums with pits are dull at 6c pitless in better request at 14 a 15c

BACON—The San Francisco market for Oregon has declined to 10@11c for sides and ours cannot be quoted above 9@10c Shoulders and Hams are unchanged the supply of all kinds being rather in excess of than below the demand

LARD—The receipts are not heavy and we quote good fresh Oregon in tins firm at 14 cts ℔ ℔ in kegs 14 cts

BUTTER—The same old difficulty exists in giving exact quotations of this article A good quality of fresh roll will sell readily at 25@27½ Fancy print 25@30c on contract, common ranges from 17 also while some that offers would hardly command 12½c

CHEESE—The receipts of Oregon made are light and importations supply in large part the local demand We quote at 17@18 cts ℔ ℔ according to brand.

CHICKENS—The demand is not extensive but choice lots of grown are worth $4@4 25 ℔ dozen Spring $2 50@3

EGGS—The supply even for the local trade is short and the tendency of prices for several days has been strongly upward and jobbers to-day are asking 25 cents per dozen of the retail trade It is a good time to sell as a decline may take place any day

HIDES—Choice dry Hides are [illegible] readily at 15@16c ℔ ℔, green 6@7c The receipts are large especially from Eastern Oregon

FRESH MEATS—The demand at this season shows less activity while arrivals are better prices remain without change

WOOL—The receipts continue to be quite heavy but will materially diminish within a few days as most of the clip is out of first hands While we believe that stricter attention to some suggestions as to sorting and packing would have proved profitable to wool growers, we congratulate them on the success which has attended the season's business It is estimated that the receipts at this point so far have reached over 2,000,000 pounds and that the total for export will reach 2,600,000 pounds Choice Wallamet valley Wool is quotable at 26@30c ℔ ℔ Eastern Oregon and Walla Walla 22@26c

SECRET AFFINITIES.

A PANTHEISTIC FANTASY FROM THE FRENCH OF THEOPHILE GAUTIER

[In the last Cornhill Francis Doyle renders from [illegible] Secret Affinities a Pantheistic Fantasy which we trust the [illegible] will [illegible] much as we do]

Deep in the [illegible] two statues white,
On an old temple front against blue gleams
Of an Athenian sky instinct with light
Blended their marble beams

In the same shell embedded (crystal tears
Of the sad sea mourning her Venus flown)
Two pearls of loneliest ocean through long years
Kept whispering words unknown

In [illegible] by Granada river
Close to the low-voiced fountain's silver showers,
Two roses from Boabdil's garden [illegible]
Mingled their murmuring flowers

Upon the domes of Venice in a nest
Where love from age to age [illegible] his day
Two white doves with their feet of pink found rest
Through the soft month of May

Dove, rose pearl marble into ruin dim
Alike dissolve themselves alike decay
Pearls melt, flowers wither marble shapes dis[illegible],
And bright birds float away

[illegible], once free flies back to feed
The unfathomable life dust yearning dumb
Whence God's all [illegible] hands to all knead
Each form that is to come

By slow, slow change, to white and tender flesh
[illegible]
The rose in lips as sweet and red and fresh
Refigured blooms again

[illegible] more murmur and coo beneath
[illegible] of two young lovers, when they met
[illegible] new themselves and flash as teeth
[illegible] divinely sweet.

Hence sympathetic emanations flow
[illegible]
Their sisterhood of soul

Obedient to the hint some fragrance sends,
Some color or some ray with mystic power,
Atom to atom [illegible]
As the bee [illegible] her power

Of moonlit [illegible] the temple shed
Of lives linked [illegible] wakes
Of [illegible] the [illegible] red
Where the bright [illegible] breaks

[illegible]
The old love [illegible]

Forgotten [illegible] for the past
Is for them [illegible]
The breathing flower in crimson lips [illegible]
[illegible]

[illegible]
The pearl reclaims her lustre softly bright
[illegible]
As [illegible] and pure and white

[illegible]
Has found an echo of her tender moan
[illegible] grown [illegible] and love
Springs up from the unknown

[illegible]
[illegible] where [illegible] tree
Saw us, [illegible] of yore
As pearl or bird or flower?

"Nothing," mournfully answered the [illegible], no home, and your cash so short that you couldn't get into a woman's rights convention, eh?" con[illegible]

THE [illegible] POLAR EXPEDITION — This expedition, which will consist of two steam whalers and about 120 men and officers, will [illegible] this country next summer, and proceed through Davis' Straits up Baffin's Bay to the Danish settlements [illegible] These will be its base Then, still heading northward the volunteers will [illegible] Smith's Sound and once [illegible] ate depot in 81 degrees north latitude in a fixed position, while the second will press on into the open sea which it is believed exists about the Pole. The depot-ship will be about 540 miles from the Pole, and the return [illegible] of [illegible] ter, will not be [illegible] to man with sledges. The expedition will have [illegible] in any case to [illegible] in the autumn of 1877, and a [illegible] will probably be sent to the depot ship in the summer of 1876 to bring back [illegible] of the condition of the expedition and the details of such information as may have been obtained The report that Commander Markham has been selected to command the expedition is premature. The Admiralty are divided between the appointment of a young comparatively inexperienced officer, and a senior officer of experience but with weight of years The cost of the expedition is estimated at $30 000 a year —London paper

FIVE ACES —Jack and Jim Reynolds cousins and loafers were playing poker in a bar room near Augusta, Me Jack held a straight with an ace at the head and to his intense delight, Jim put down the money as fast as he raised until the pool amounted to over $10 Then Jim called and Jack threw down his straight Then Jim threw down four aces This indicated the miracle of five aces in one pack or a [illegible] and [illegible] that there was shenanagan going on He [illegible] that one of them was a tray with the end spots chalked out A fight ensued for the stakes in which Jim was stabbed and Jack had his nose bitten but neither got the money because somebody stole it while they were fighting

The European markets are all reported dull and cargoes for shipment find slow sale

There has seldom been a week or month in the history of Portland during the last decade which presented less subject matter for comment in the way of commercial affairs than has the past week and the month now closing To-day we find no change in the aspect of affairs business at the same standstill as before quietly awaiting the opening of navigation to the sea.

Monetary matters are reported to show a little more scarcity than was anticipated, but as collection day usually brings out the complaints on this [illegible] city for the purposes of legitimate trade exists, and it is probable that the resumption of business is all that is necessary to remove the apparent deficiency in the circulating capital of the community During the cold weather many mills manufacturing establishments and other enterprises have shut down or suspended, and disbursements have [illegible] limited [illegible] an apparent scarcity, when the difficulty is not so much a [illegible] of money as the inactivity of the forces which give it circulation The return of business to its accustomed channels will quickly remedy this evil. Such a re[illegible]

In the line of trade [illegible] a fair amount of activity in the filling of orders from points up the valley with which direction only we have transport [illegible] facilities at present. These orders are not large but numerous enough to make quite a reduction in the stocks of some of our dealers while prevented from filling up by the ice in the Columbia. Prices manifest but little disposition to fluctuate

Produce is coming forward by steamers quite rapidly and our warehouses are filling up with grain and flour there being now in this city the estimated amount of 7 000 tons of wheat and flour awaiting shipment

Advices from abroad note but little change in [illegible] though the tendency of the San Francisco market seems to be downward Ours is unchanged
